Hi All,

Please read, it's relevant because it involves a "police accountability" review board. Like the one Missoula Police Chief White and the mayor have mentioned.

I guess where I'm going with this is:

What will be the perspective and approach we're going to take thats materially different from Minneapolis as it relates to the police commission ?

Where's the transparency?

Where's the accountability?

Why should we expect different results front the same thing that failed in Minneapolis Minnesota?
